9.1 The Customer acknowledges and accepts that:

- (i) the nature of the Services being provided is not without risk; and
- (ii) although the Company will explain the risks associated with the use of the Services and the activities that the Customer will be required to undertake as part of the assessment procedures the Customer is responsible for understanding the risks before consenting to the activities that he will be required to undertake.

9.2 If the Company fails to comply with the terms of this Agreement, the Company will be responsible to the Customer for foreseeable loss and damage caused by the Company breaking this Agreement or failing to provide the Services with reasonable care and skill.

9.3 The Company is not responsible for any loss or damage that is not foreseeable. Loss or damage is foreseeable if either it is obvious that it will happen or if, at the time the Agreement was made, both the Company and the Customer knew it might happen, for example, if the Customer discussed it with the Company during the sales process,

9.4 The Company does not exclude or limit in any way its liability to the Customer where it would be unlawful to do so. This includes liability for death or personal injury caused by the Company's negligence or the negligence of its employees, agents or subcontractors; for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; for breach of the Customer's legal rights in relation to the Service including the right to receive services which are supplied with reasonable skill and care.

9.5 If the Company provides services in the Customer's property, the Company will make good any damage to the Customer's property caused by the Company while doing so. However, the Company is not responsible for the cost of repairing any pre-existing faults or damage to the Customer's property that the Company discovers while providing the Services.

9.6 The Company is not liable for business losses. The Customer is receiving the Services as a consumer and the Company only supplies the Service for the Customer's domestic and private use. If the Customer uses the Services for any commercial, business or re-sale purposes the Company will have no liability to the Customer for any loss of profit, loss of business, business interruption or loss of business opportunity.

10. CONDUCT

Customer

10.1 The Customer must use the Services in accordance with the advice provided by any representative of the Company and any notices displayed.

10.2 The Customer is required to behave in a reasonable and courteous manner when attending the Company's premises. The Company may refuse to provide the Service and/or terminate this Agreement in the event that the Company is of the reasonable opinion that the Customer has acted in a manner which is detrimental to the welfare or reputation of the Company, its employees or subcontractors. If the Company terminates this Agreement in exercise of its rights under this clause, the Company shall retain all monies paid by the Customer up to and including the date of termination.

Company

10.3 If the Customer has any questions or complaints about the Services, any Company employee or subcontractor, the Customer should contact the Company by telephone or in writing the details of the telephone number and address are those on the Company's website.

11. PERSONAL DATA

11.1 The Company will process the Customer's personal data in accordance with the Company's Privacy Policy which can be found at - <https://www.tomorrowscreening.com/privacy-and-cookie-policy>

11.2 The Customer consents to the Company sharing the Customer's personal data with third parties for the provision of the Services. This includes:

- (i) to allow the Company to collect payments from the Customer;
- (ii) to instruct third parties to recover unpaid Fees from the Customer;
- (iii) to assign any debt owed to the Company by the Customer; and
- (iv) to obtain information from a credit reference agency in circumstances where the Company provides credit to the Customer.

12. MISCELLANEOUS

12.1 The Customer is responsible for informing the Company for any change in their personal details or health.

12.2 The Company may transfer its rights and obligations under this Agreement to another organisation. The Company will inform the Customer if it intends to transfer and it will ensure that the transfer does not affect the Customers rights under this Agreement. If the Customer does not agree to the Services being provided by another person after the proposed transfer, the Customer may inform the Company to end this Agreement in 30 days of the Company informing the Customer of the transfer and the Company will refund to the Customer any payments that he has made in advance for Services not provided.

12.3 This Agreement is between the Customer and the Company. No other person shall have any rights to enforce any of its terms.

12.4 If the court finds any part of this Agreement illegal the rest will continue in force. Each of the clauses of these terms operates separately. If any court or relevant authority decides that any of them are unlawful, the remaining clauses will remain in full force and effect.

12.5 If the Company does not insist immediately that the Customer does anything that the Customer is required to do under this Agreement or if the Company delays in taking steps against the Customer in respect of him breaking this Agreement that will not mean that the Customer does not have to do those things or prevent the Company from taking steps against the Customer at a later date. For example, if the Customer misses a payment and the Company does not chase it but continues to provide the Services, the Company may still require the Customer to make the payment at a later date.

12.6 This Agreement is subject to English law and the courts of England and Wales shall have the exclusive jurisdiction to determine any dispute arising hereunder.
